Dedication

We love a parade,

A parade which sets forth the achievements of youth.

Marching toward the world of tomorrow we, the students of our school, take our place in the parade of life. We give our strength to selling bonds and stamps, and end with a shiny new bomber bearing the name of New Albany Senior High. And in a parade to honor this bomber we send forth a challenge to the older generation to give their fullest in an effort to preserve the world for peace.

We answer our own challenge by doubling our efforts in tin, iron and paper salvages, bond rallies, and entertainment for wounded soldiers.

We, the youth of our school, give our best, not for glory but that we, along with the rest of the youth of America and the world, may enjoy the victory which is to follow.

We march with eager feet to take our share of world responsibility. And high above our heads we hold our banners, proclaiming to the world what our hearts cannot speak.

In an effort to bring full understanding of this parade, we dedicate our yearbook to it with the prayer that our steps through the year have hastened the parade to everlasting peace.

Yes, we do love a parade.

M. L. M.

You can draw your own conclusions about that smirk on Helene Johnson's face as she receives typhoid shots.

We'd love to listen in on the story George Mullineux is telling Wally Rutherford at the mixer.

Earl Edwards combines Jive and "Sweet and Low" at the mixer.

Seniors take their "Hats Off" to the Freshmen for their courage in undergoing typhoid shots.

The Parade Of Youth Is the Show Time Of Adolescence

Our annual—this year—takes as its theme the term parade. The parade of youth is the show time of adolescence. In our democracy its impetus began during the last quarter of the nineteenth century. Its roots were founded in the establishment of the Boston Latin School. Since that time the flow of youth has steadily increased, until today—in America—its voice is as the steady hum of an armada of flying bombers on a definite mission. It takes its direction from those teachers—the pilots—who understand and are sympathetic. Its direction will be further guided by communities of parents and teachers working with that precious clay of youth, so pliantly moulded, yet so easily crystallized.

Youth—today—marches firmly and confidently forward, armed with faith, intelligence and imagination. Their minds should be so equipped that their parade should be one to emulate that of the Prince of Peace, who rode joyously into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday, rather than that parade of the Axis Hordes marching on to destruction.

J. C. L.

The Junior Classical League, organized in 1940 by a group of advanced Latin students, has a membership of fifty active members . . . is a branch of the National Junior League—one of the few organizations of this nature in southern Indiana . . . Tryouts for new members held twice each scholastic year showed good talent and ability. . . . On account of the athletic fervor of some of the members, vacancies in the consulship and quaestorship had to be filled twice—Georgia Anna Anthony filled her office of consul during the year cum fidelitate . . . Programs were varied in character, in an endeavor to keep up the interest of former students in the cultural value of the Latin language . . . Annual initiation held on May 20th, on Saturday afternoon with beautiful service in both Latin and English in charge of Marian Richardson,—former member and now honor student in the Latin Department of Indiana University . . . Her assistants were Amelia McCauley, Rita Stiersmaedter, Aileen Lipps, Margaret Fein and Mary Jane Jeffrey . . . ## Mask and Mantle

"All the world's a stage"—at least we think so. . . . Miss Cupp organized us in '43 to promote dramatic talent here in N.A.H.S. . . . we present two plays a year and an "Oscar" to the person in each production who displays the most outstanding characterization. . . . As our grand celebration for a semester's work—a Barn Dance with decorations to fit the occasion, a harvest moon, hay-stack, and the members and their dates frolicked to the strains of Kenneth Hale's orchestra . . . perfect climax to our school year—the presentation of the romantic comedy, "Pride and Prejudice" . . . now, we shall "strut and fret" till next year.

ATHLETICS

A Handful of Vets

Captain Stuart Gibson and St. X. captain shake hands before N. A.-St. X. game.

Wayne Meyer attempts to elude Manual tuckler in the N.A.-Manual game.

Howard Elkins grabs the shirt of a Manual back in the N.A.-Manual game.

Bulldogs Gain State-Wide Recognition

At the beginning of the season, Coach Thom had only 5 lettermen back from his 1942 squad. Even the most optimistic fans saw only an average team for 1943, but Coach Thom developed his untried and inexperienced material into a powerful football machine, one of the best New Albany has seen in many years.

The season ended with eight games on the credit side of the ledger and one lone loss. Although our team did not win the S.I.A.C. crown, we had the best record in the conference and were acclaimed by most sports writers as the outstanding team in the conference.

According to Indiana sportswriters the Bulldogs were the fifth best team in the state when the season closed. Special honors went to Captain Stuart Gibson, our hard-hitting back who was selected on the all-State eleven, and to Tommy Daniels, Wayne Meyers, Warren Slider, and Bob Sanford who received honorable mention. The coach and the players are to be congratulated for this highly successful season.

New Albany 37 Anchorage 0

In the season's inaugural tilt on Sept. 17 at Buerk Field the Bulldogs easily defeated Anchorage, Kentucky, 37-0. The Bulldogs who had practiced only a few weeks for this game showed the makings of a great team.

New Albany 14 St. Xavier 6

For the first time in many years the St. X. game was not played on Thanksgiving but was moved up to Sept. 25. Playing on Maxwell Field the Bulldogs outfought the St. X. Tigers and by virtue of a blocked kick and an intercepted pass triumphed 14-6.

New Albany 14 P. J. Reitz 0

On Oct. 1 at Buerk Field the Bulldogs handed a strong Reitz team from Evansville a 14-0 beating. Reitz had knocked New Albany out of the S.I.A.C. crown the year before. With revenge in their eyes, the Bulldogs rang up two touchdowns in the first half and beat back all Reitz counter attacks in the last half. The Bulldogs showed their best form of the year in that first half.

New Albany 46 Jeff 0

The scene, Buerk Field, Oct. 8, with the two old rival teams facing each other. The Red Devils showed that they had not yet recovered from their long absence from the football wars and easily fell prey to the Bulldogs 46-0.

New Albany 27 Seymour 7

On Oct. 15 at Buerk Field two unbeaten teams clashed on the gridiron. New Albany ran up a 27-0 lead over the hard fighting Owls from Seymour. Seymour finally unleashed their vaunted aerial attack to score their lone touchdown in the last quarter. Final score 27-7.

New Albany 7 Manual 14

The unbeaten Bulldogs traveled to Louisville on Oct. 23 to meet the Manual Reds who had always been our jinx. This year that jinx was still working. In the first half both N. A. and Manual punched over touchdowns and began the second half with the score 7-7. Manual scored on the first play from scrimmage on a long run and led 14-7. But from there on the Bulldogs controlled the ball most of the time and continually drove within the ten-yard stripe. Luck wasn't with us, and although we outplayed the Reds, we lost our first and only game of the year 14-7.

New Albany 34 Vincennes 2

The Bulldogs bounced back from that defeat, however, and on Oct. 29 at Buerk Field easily handled Vincennes 34-2. Vincennes was later crowned S.I.A.C. champions.

New Albany 48 Bloomington 0

On the last home game of the season, Nov. 5, New Albany ran up the largest score of the season 48-0 over the Bloomington Panthers.

New Albany 13 Bosse 0

The Bulldogs trekked to Evansville on Nov. 12 and played the final game of the season. They defeated the Bosse Bulldogs 13-0 in a hard-fought game.

Basketball Season

The cagers took up where the gridgers left off and finished their season with an outstanding record. Coach Charles McConnell was confronted with much the same problem as had faced Coach Thom. With only one letterman, Captain Pete Murphy, McConnell had to depend upon the boys from last year's reserve team. They came through with flying colors.

On Dec. 3 the Bulldogs beat the Central Bears 33-30 at Evansville and then defeated Vincennes, Corydon, Manual and St. X. But on Dec. 22, following a hard game with St. X, we lost to an inferior Reitz team 37-27.

We came back strong, however, to knock off a powerful Bedford club and coasted over Seymour and Columbus. The Bulldogs put on a great last period rally to eke out a 40-39 victory over Greencastle. The next night we trounced Bloomington 52-28.

Then the team hit a slump and lost to Bosse 29-27, Washington 34-28, and Jeff 27-22.

After a short rest, we were hosts to Jasper's high-stepping Wildcats. After leading 18-6 at the half the Bulldogs overcame the Wildcats rally and won 31-28.

Salem and Richmond were easy victims. The Bulldogs climaxed the very successful season by trimming the South Side Archers from Fort Wayne who were regarded as one of the most powerful Northern teams.

In the sectional New Albany drew Jeff in the first round. Jeff out-fought New Albany 37-30 to close our basketball season.

At the end of the season the Bulldogs were ranked fifth in the state.

Captain Pete Murphy was chosen on the S.I.A.C. first team with Sherman Haezliitt, Tommy Daniel and Robert Stemle receiving honorable mention.

They lost to Bedford in a dual meet and placed fifth in the S.I.A.C. golf meet. Members of the team were: Mike Hoffman, Robert Stemle, Charles Schultz, T. A. Austin, Richard Bauer and Albert Messmer.

Art Kraus, Joe Cummings, Bob Olsen, Richard Bauer, Charles Schultz, Mike Hoffman, Robert Stemle and Albert Messmer will make up the 1944 squad. This team is expected to be stronger and will compete in a greater number of meets than last year's team did.

PICTURE OF A MAN WASTING ELECTRICITY

● The radio's going and the lights are on, but nobody's using them! It's a room of waste—and waste won't win wars! But electricity hasn't been rationed, you say. That's right and there's plenty of it . . . but for use, not for waste! When you help save electricity, you help save the manpower, fuel, transportation and materials by which electricity is made.

You help shorten the war. That is why our Government has asked seven major industries—coal, petroleum, transportation, gas, electricity, communications and water—to cooperate for wartime conservation. And that is why you are asked to conserve electricity wherever you can. Go on using electricity for essential purposes. But don't waste it.

*The cost of ELECTRICITY is at its lowest point in history. . .
BUT DON'T WASTE IT JUST BECAUSE IT'S PLENTIFUL AND CHEAP*

We have shown you our parade.

We have given you our bomber, bandages, and bonds.

These are the things that we, the youth of our school have accomplished with enthusiasm and hard work.

We have set our goal and we shall continue to march steadily on until we reach and surpass it. We gave our time because our hearts were in our work. We have not been guided by false purposes. We shall always follow a parade which has for its purpose the future of our country.

Even though we confined our parade to our city's streets, we see the products of our efforts fight at the side of our soldiers in all parts of the world. The tanks, planes, and jeeps we bought with our stamps and bonds will save the lives of many Americans and of many of our allies.

This year's parade has passed on but we shall continue to march forward with jeeps, tanks, bombers, and bonds.
